

What 3 million lines of code means to a piece of luggage.

Get a smarter answer →

Get 4 FREE trial issues >>

Subscribe

Student offers

Log in | Subscribe | Register | My account

Digital & mobile | Newsletters | RSS | Classifieds | Help

Friday February 18th 2011

Search

Home World politics Business & finance Economics Science & technology Culture Site index Print edition

All Economics Markets & Data

AMERICA'S FISCAL TROUBLES

The latest cop-out

Barack Obama has ducked the challenge of grappling with America's medium-term deficit woes (22)

A feeble offering from the president; but there are a few signs of hope (12)

Economics by invitation: How close is America to fiscal crisis?

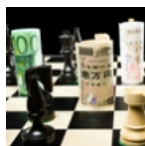

CENTRAL BANKS A more complicated game

The West's financial crisis has shaken public confidence in its leading central banks. Yet it has also led to an expansion of their duties and powers (3)

Mario Draghi should lead the European Central Bank (21)

Inside the race to run the ECB

Economist asks: Will the euro-zone economy shrink in 2011? (1)

IRELAND'S CRISIS

After the race

Once among the richest people in Europe, the Irish have been laid low by a banking collapse and the euro zone's debt crisis. What now? (13)

Ireland's new government should stick with pro-growth policies (8)

Topic page: Ireland

INFLATION

Mervyn's dilemma

Inflation rising to 4%; interest rates stuck at 0.5%: something has to give (7)

But inflation could help China rebalance (1)

Topic page: Inflation

BOOMING BRAZIL

How tough will Dilma be?

The new government sets out to cool an overheating economy (7)

Brazil is the hot new private-equity market (13)

Topic page: Brazil

AMERICA'S ECONOMIC HEADACHES

On their own

The government considers new ways to help ailing states (4)

Suburban retail is still struggling (6)

Too many workers are out of the labour force (16)

VIETNAM'S CURRENCY CRISIS

Going, going, dong

The only solutions in sight are woefully short-sighted (10)

Another day, another dong devaluation EIU

The Vietnamese find clever ways to dodge official currency controls (1)

Worries about renewed overheating (Mar 2010) (3)

EUROPEAN ECONOMIC INTEGRATION

Pact of uncompetitiveness

Dangers lurk in Franco-German plans for a more tightly integrated euro zone (29)

Leaders are still avoiding decisive steps (42)

Charlemagne: What is Angela Merkel signalling? (197)

Topic page: The euro zone

TRENDS IN ECONOMICS

The contemporary Keynes

Which economist is doing most to shape post-crisis thinking? (8)

Economists give their "most influential" lists

Economist asks: Is Ben Bernanke the most influential economist of the past decade? (6)

GERMANY'S ECONOMY

Angela in Wunderland

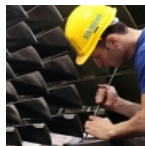

What Germany's got right, and what it hasn't (1301)

What's behind the success of German business? (16)

Among the G7, Germany is clearly the top economic performer (11)

In education, an emphasis on the practical (5)

Economist asks: How strong is Germany's economy? (2)

CHINESE ECONOMIC STATISTICS

Fact-checking Hu Jintao

Has China really saved American consumers $600 billion? - Free exchange (57)

Did China really create 14m jobs? Free exchange (34)

Discussion: Is the world too dependent on China?

Also on this channel

The economics profession

New world order

Internationalisation has boosted Europe's academic clout (4)

China's luxury boom

The Middle Blingdom

Sales of costly trifles are even better than you think (14)

Cloud computing

A market for computing power

A new spot market makes cloud computing a commodity (1)

Free exchange

In this blog, our correspondents consider the fluctuations in the world economy and the policies intended to produce more booms than busts

Economics by invitation

How close is America to fiscal crisis?

America is bankrupt (Laurence Kotlikoff)

There is no fundamental deficit crisis (Brad DeLong)

More >

Twitter

Get the very latest economics news by following The Economist's economics coverage on Twitter: @econeconomics.

From our blogs

Free exchange Government of the rich, by the rich, for the rich

Why is policy so responsive to the preferences of the wealthy? More >

Asia view

Exporting yoga

Japan and India strike an important trade agreement More >

Economics interactives

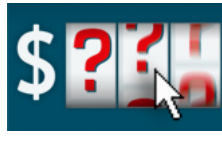

The latest Economist poll of forecasters

Europe's economies are moving in different directions

Track the growth of debt around the world

What we're reading

A life's value depends on the agency (New York Times)

Social Security and longevity (Mark Thoma)

On Watson (Slate)

Also on Watson (Tom Lee)

New economics papers

Net fiscal stimulus during the Great Recession (Joshua Aizenman and Gurnain Kaur Pasricha)

Predicting economic market crises using measures of collective panic (Dion Harmon, Marcus de Aguiar, David Chinellato, Dan Braha, Irving Epstein, and Yaneer Bar-Yam)

Highlights

Buttonwood Betting on Ben

Central banks have been supporting share prices

Economics focus

Learning to like inflation

Higher inflation could help to rebalance China's economy

The Economist Asks

Will the euro-zone economy shrink in 2011?

Yes

No

View results after you vote

Get background or join the discussion >>

Advertisement

HOW FAR DO YOUR CAREER PLANS GO?

Masters and Executive Education programmes for every career stage

Click here to learn more

Most commented

Most recommended

- 1. Germany's economy: Angela in Wunderland
2. China's reaction: Build a wall
3. China, India and the Karmapa Lama: The Karmapa's comeuppance?
4. Charlemagne: The union within the union
5. Burgeronomics: Please help us compile the Big Mac index
6. American deficits: The budget act
7. Climate change: Why don't Americans believe in global warming?
8. Daily chart: Global alcohol consumption: Drinking habits
9. Climate change: Americans and global warming, continued
10. America the not-so-weird: How exceptional is America, really?
Over the past five days

Advertisement

Latest blog posts - All times are GMT

Return of the Meskhetians From Eastern approaches - 38 mins ago

After Mubarak From Multimedia - 1 hour 8 mins ago

Partisan conflict and fiscal prudence From Democracy in America - 2 hours 10 mins ago

Not yet fettered From Buttonwood's notebook - 2 hours 13 mins ago

Rocking Africa From Prospero - 2 hours 13 mins ago

Tremors From Newsbook - 2 hours 17 mins ago

I O USA From Daily chart - 2 hours 23 mins ago

More from our blogs >>

Products & events

Stay informed today and every day

Subscribe to The Economist's free e-mail newsletters and alerts.

Get e-mail newsletters

Subscribe to The Economist's latest article postings on Twitter

Follow The Economist on Twitter

See a selection of The Economist's articles, events, topical videos and debates on Facebook.

Follow The Economist on Facebook

Classified ads

